S.I.A. Tech-link: IT Incubation centre

(Bridging the Gap between Academics and Industry)

The research wing of the college works towards signing MOUs with different companies providing live projects for students. This gives an opportunity for students to get hands-on experience at handling different responsibilities and assisting in different activities. The SIA-TechLink also conducts crash courses targeting specific technical skills for the students. These features make the SIA-TechLink an important department especially for the IT department as it provides an avenue to put theory into practice.
